POLYNIZE AGENTIC

Content Marketing Plan

Living document for the Polynize 30 Days series and ongoing social content strategy

Series Overview

30 Days with OpenCore — Marrs documents the journey of building with OpenClaw, sharing real insights, real builds, and real results. Each video showcases one specific thing built and one key insight.

Content Pillars

01 — The Hidden Cost of Drowning

Named, specific pain points SME founders live through. Drowning in ops work. Missing opportunities. Losing to bigger competitors.

02 — Named Agents, Named Jobs

"Meet Tabatha, the deal flow agent we built for X." First-person agent introductions with personalities and specific capabilities.

03 — The Hiring Maths

Cost comparisons that reframe capacity. "The sales rep you were going to hire for $90K... vs. the agent team that costs $2,500."

04 — Humans, Elevated

Stories where the human is the hero. A founder reclaiming their week. A department lead who stopped being the bottleneck.

05 — Behind the Build

How we think. The concept of drift. Why configuration beats tooling. Short explainer content that positions us as builders with a point of view.

06 — The Polynize Perspective

Our angle on the wider AI-and-work conversation. The cognitive unit. The real bottleneck. Thought leadership without the thought-leader voice.

Approved Hooks

Use these, adapt them, or write new ones in the same spirit. All reinforce "human-led agent team" positioning.

Cost-Reframe Hooks

The role you couldn't afford to hire, we just built it for $2,500.

Your next hire doesn't need a salary.

Built in a week. Works 24/7. Never asks for a raise.

The $85K salary you were going to pay, reallocated, honestly.

Agentic Team Hooks

You don't need a bigger team. You need a team that works while you think.

One founder. Four agents. One business that finally scales.

Stop wearing five hats. Deploy five agents and wear the one that matters.

Your agent team, ready to work, in the same tools you already live in.

Drift & Configuration Hooks

Most AI looks impressive and quietly misses. That's called drift.

The problem isn't that AI is bad. The problem is that nobody installed a way of thinking into it.

Cheap AI is easy. Configured AI is the unfair advantage.

Every AI tool looks the same. Ours comes with an expert installed.

Identity & Reframe Hooks

You're not buying AI. You're buying an expert's way of thinking, installed.

We don't build chatbots. We build cognitive teams.

Voice & Language

Always Use

- Agent (not bot, not assistant)
- Agentic Team
- Install (not configure, program)
- Deploy (not launch, release)
- Service fee (not subscription)
- Expert thinking
- Trained on your business

Blueprint

Human lead

Drift

Specific numbers, named tools

Named agents with personalities

Never Use

Unlock, leverage, empower, game-changer

Delve, cutting-edge, robust, seamless

Chatbot, AI assistant (generic)

Replace, fire, eliminate headcount

Hosting, maintenance, subscription

Solution, platform, ecosystem, synergy

Powered by AI, AI-driven

"Imagine if..." / "What if..."

Em dashes (use commas or colons)

Vague claims without numbers

Anything implying humans replaced
